DE BERNARDO is Secretary/Treasurer and a principle of Star Publishing Company, 150 Lafayette St., NYC, NY, major dealers in pornography, which was financially backed by the DE CAVACANTE Family of LCN. The specific connection between RICHICHI and UN BHOA is not known.

The [redacted] (last name unknown), a white male in his mid-twenties and a carpenter by trade, and a vegetarian, built the peep show machines of RICHICHI, supposedly on the premises of Projection Engineers Ltd.

[redacted] (last name unknown) was very badly treated by RICHICHI as an employee, but he is not known to have been involved with RICHICHI as anything more than a carpenter for the machines.

There is no reason whatever to believe that [redacted] would be in the least bit cooperative with law enforcement officers in connection with any of his operations or those of RICHICHI. He has a background since childhood of association with Italian hoodlums.

The former mechanic-routeman employed by NATALE RICHICHI is FRANK HOPKINS, a white male in his twenties, about 5' 9", about 200 lbs., very strong and muscular. HOPKINS is living with WALTER VANALLER, who is building peep show machines under the business name of Javaco at a factory warehouse just north of Delray Beach, Florida. FRANK HOPKINS is also employed by WALTER VANALLER, at least as recently as May 20, 1975.

WALTER VANALLER and FRANK HOPKINS arranged for the installation of five new Javaco 25¢ peep show machines, which machines were installed on May 20, 1975, at the Eros Adult Bookstore, 301 N. E. 2nd Street, Miami, Florida. These machines were sold outright to the owner of that store, and have no connection whatever with the operation of NATALE RICHICHI.

FRANK HOPKINS is very afraid physically of NATALE RICHICHI, and is trying to avoid RICHICHI.

VANALLER stated that he knows RICHICHI's boss "up North," and stated he intends to contact this individual if NATALE RICHICHI does not pick up ten peep show cabinets now stored at Eros Adult Bookstore, 301 N. E. 2nd Street, Miami. VANALLER wants these cabinets for himself. He does not fear RICHICHI, but would like to get back at RICHICHI, FRANK HOPKINS continues to work for and live with WALTER VANALLER, who builds "peep show" machines at the Javaco Factory-Warehouse, north of Delray Beach, Florida. VANALLER continues to be the partner in his venture with JAMES HOWARD RHOAT, owner of Miami Books, Incorporated, North Miami Beach, Florida, and Seaboard News Agency, Ft. Pierce, Florida.

HOPKINS was at the Javaco warehouse as late as the first week in June 1975.

HOPKINS stated that he is in a very nervous condition. He admitted being very afraid that the FBI will locate him and interview him regarding his former association with NATALE RICHICHI. HOPKINS stated that he was with NATALE RICHICHI from the very beginning of RICHICHI's entry into the "peep show" machine business in South Florida. HOPKINS stated that he was "taken away" from WALTER VANALLER by RICHICHI.

HOPKINS admitted that he knows about RICHICHI scaring people to cause them to put in RICHICHI's "peep show" machines. He stated that when working for RICHICHI, HOPKINS had orders to tell RICHICHI about the location and ownership of any newly opened adult bookstore in South Florida. RICHICHI would then contact the owners and attempt to put his merchandise into these locations.

FRANK HOPKINS and/or WALTER VANALLER service "peep show" machines at the Eros Adult Bookstore, 301 N.E. 2nd Street, Miami, Florida, during the evening hours of every Thursday.

[redacted] stated that he and his [redacted] bought the book store at the above location and took over the operation thereof in November, 1973.

Shortly thereafter, a white male, whom [redacted] positively identified by photo as being NATALE RICHICHI, known to [redacted] as "Big CHRIS" and "Big HARRY", came to the adult book store alone and talked to [redacted] then had ten "peep show" machines in the store, all of which were the property of [redacted] of Dade County, Florida. These ten machines are still in the store, but are now the property of a business known to [redacted] the local manager of which he identified by photo as [redacted]

One [redacted] is also associated with [redacted] in the maintenance and operation of the machines in [redacted] store. [redacted] services the machines on a weekly basis on Fridays.

In connection with the visit by RICHICHI, shortly after [redacted] and [redacted] took over the adult book store at the above address and probably about January or February, 1974, RICHICHI told [redacted] without any other witnesses being present, that RICHICHI would like to put his own machines into [redacted] store, replacing the machines currently there. [redacted] informed RICHICHI that the ten machines were the property of [redacted]. RICHICHI replied something to the effect "you know things could happen to the machines". [redacted] took this as a threat of sabotage against the machines in his shop. [redacted] recalled nothing further regarding this conversation with RICHICHI and stated that there were no subsequent threats by RICHICHI

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

WALTER VANALLER, Javaco, which is located on State Road Number 80, about two miles north of Delray Beach Road in Palm Beach County, Florida was contacted in another matter and advised as follows:

He came to Florida from Connecticut. He is an engineer by profession, but was unemployed in Connecticut, and came to Florida with a Mr. RHOAT from Seaboard News, Fort Pierce, Florida, with the idea in mind of their manufacturing the 8 millimeter peep show machines utilized in adult book stores and similar places. A lot of money was put into the venture, but now, since law enforcement and court decisions are making it somewhat harder on the operators of such places, the idea for the business is about dead. He said they have not and never intended to get into the film part of the business, but only the machine part.

He said MIKE WISOTSKY (phonetic), who operates the adult book store in Delray Beach, Florida apparently inherited or took over from his father or uncle, or both, a route of these peep show machines, which he extended from Delray Beach south into or through Broward County, Florida. He serviced the route for repairs on the machines, but he did not know if WISOTSKY serviced the route for films for the machines. About a year ago, [redacted] (last name unknown), started running this route for WISOTSKY and just from rumor VANALLER got the impression [redacted] has sort of taken over the route and has the reputation of being loud and/or threatening and for throwing his weight around.

VANALLER said he had had some limited dealings with [redacted] having repaired some machines for him at one time. [redacted] gave him a little money, but not the whole amount and when he asked [redacted] about it, [redacted] indicated he just pays those people whom he wants to pay.

He said [redacted] had a young Mormon from Salt Lake City working for him as a repairman for a while, who seemed to be a nice boy. His name was FRANK, but VANALLER could not recall his last name. He said FRANK [redacted] parted company when FRANK lost some keys to the machines. [redacted]

Interviewed on 4/13/75 at Palm Beach County, Florida. File # Miami 92-4538

by SA RICHARD B. KELLOGG/BR Date dictated 4/21/75

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and its contents are not to be distributed outside.

thought he had given the key to someone who was looting the machines, and he reportedly beat up on FRANK. VANALLER said he assumed FRANK is still in the Fort Lauderdale area, but he did not know where. He said if he can get a last name and/or address for FRANK he will advise.

VANALLER viewed a photograph of NATALIE RICHICHI and said he is identical with [redacted]. He reiterated he has only had the one experience with [redacted] when [redacted] indicated he was not going to pay him what he owed him as he did not want to, and has only heard that [redacted] apparently operates by talking tough or, possibly, being tough. WALTER VANALLER, Javano, U.S. 441, rural Delray Beach, Florida, who had previously indicated some knowledge of one [redacted], who deals in 8 mm. coin operated projectors in adult book stores in the area, was telephonically contacted on May 15, 1975 and advised as follows:

The "FRANK", who used to work for [redacted] until they had a falling out, was a young white male, FRANK HOPKINS. HOPKINS, a Mormon from Salt Lake City who is a mechanic by trade, and is believed to have a wife and family in Salt Lake City, was living in the Fort Lauderdale area, but he has had no contact with him for some months. He did not know where in Broward County HOPKINS lived, or what other jobs he might have had, except that about two years ago, or perhaps less, HOPKINS worked in a restaurant which is located behind the gasoline station that sits in the Y of U.S. #1 at the North end of Delray Beach, Florida.

Concerning his contact with [redacted], VANALLER said a man known to him only as [redacted] used to service a route of 8 mm machines. MIKE WISOTSKY (phonetic) had these machines in his stores and may have obtained them from his father or uncle, but VANALLER was not certain on that point. [redacted] left some machines with VANALLER to be repaired, two years ago. Shortly thereafter, it was [redacted] who came in to pick up the machines, and when VANALLER brought up payment for the work done, [redacted] indicated he only paid those persons he had to pay.

JAMES HOWARD RHOAT voluntarily appeared at the Ft. Pierce Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), where he was introduced to Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] by SA [redacted] whom he had met previously. Credentials were exhibited to RHOAT and SA [redacted] explained to him that the proposed interview was to concern any information regarding NATALE RICHICHI, also known as CHRIS COSTA and BIG CHRIS, which RHOAT might have pertaining to extortionate tactics used by RICHICHI in connection with his coin-operated pornographic movie machine business over the past several years in the South Florida area. It was pointed out to RHOAT that information had been received from various sources that he was, or had been, associated with RICHICHI but that no indication had been received that RHOAT had participated in any of RICHICHI's extortionate activities.

RHOAT stated that he would be glad to furnish information which he had regarding RICHICHI whom he knew as BIG CHRIS. He thereafter furnished the following information:

RHOAT stated that for approximately 15 years, up until the first part of 1973, he had been associated with [redacted] of Washington, D. C., who did business as Automatic Enterprises, which was in effect, a holding corporation for a series of other corporations which controlled a series of sexually oriented adult book stores, theaters, and associated businesses. He stated that he, RHOAT, specialized in the operation of the coin-operated peep show machines which were operated in various of the adult businesses. He stated that neither he nor [redacted] had any "organized crime" connections in this operation.

RHOAT advised that during the summer of 1972 he met [redacted] at a convention in Puerto Rico.

At that time [redacted] Seaboard News Agency, a corporation, out of Ft. Pierce, Florida. The business dealt with wholesale sexually oriented materials and [redacted] made frequent trips to Miami selling his merchandise from the trunk of his automobile. [redacted] was very interested in selling his business and within a short time an arrangement was made whereby RHOAT bought [redacted] out. However, RHOAT went back to Washington, wound up his business arrangements with [redacted] and did not actually come to Florida to take over his new business until about January or February, 1973. At that time he formed a new corporation, Miami Books, which was essentially [redacted] Miami business, which he turned over to his [redacted] to operate while RHOAT himself operated the Ft. Pierce business, continuing the name of the original corporation.

RHOAT stated that upon his arrival in the South Florida area he found the coin-operated peep show business in poor condition. Most machines were individually owned and operated. Many of the owners had no expertise in the area and the machines were continually out of service. He stated that MIKE WISOTSKY, who was an area adult book store operator, was very vocal in his belief that someone who knew something about the business should take over the peep show concessions in all the stores and run them properly. He stated that MIKE WISOTSKY was then associated with his brother MYRON and [redacted] in the Miami area. He noted that MIKE has since died.

RHOAT advised that about this time RICHICHI appeared in the area and began offering to take over the peep show concessions in various of the book stores, service and supply them for a period of a year, and thereafter take ownership of them in return for his services. He stated that a number of owners gladly accepted this arrangement, among them MIKE WISOTSKY and [redacted] RHOAT stated that as RICHICHI had no expertise in the area, COSTA approached him and he agreed to assist RICHICHI in the servicing of the machines business. He stated that by this time, he, RHOAT, had brought WALTER VAN ALLER, formerly of Connecticut, to South Florida to actually construct and repair peep show machines but not to be involved with the materials shown therein.

RHOAT stated that RICHICHI was to buy machines from RHOAT which would be built by VAN ALLER and then serviced by RHOAT. RICHICHI eventually bought eleven of the machines but never paid for them and ultimately RHOAT repossessed them or what was left of them. He stated that because of difficulties in being paid by RICHICHI, he soon disassociated himself from RICHICHI and now has nothing to do with him. He noted that VAN ALLER continues to build machines in Palm Beach County which are being sold throughout the area.

RHOAT stated that RICHICHI did not maintain and service the machines as he had agreed to do and consequently the deals which he had made went sour and there was much dissatisfaction with him generally. He stated that both [redacted] another area book store operator, have told him that RICHICHI put pressure on them regarding their machines; that he does not know the details, but that he believes RICHICHI put pressure on [redacted] regarding machines which had not been covered under the original agreement with [redacted]

b7C

RHOAT stated that when RICHICHI first came to South Florida he lived at the Jockey Club in North Miami and that on one occasion RHOAT visited him there. He stated that RICHICHI did not have an automobile and that on one occasion he picked RICHICHI up at the Jockey Club and drove him to a warehouse and office on Milam Dairy Road, as RHOAT recalls, where RICHICHI met with [redacted] and MYRON WISOTSKY. RHOAT stated that he was not in on the meeting, having been told by RICHICHI to wait in the car and not go in the building.

RHOAT stated that he is disturbed if someone is alleging that RICHICHI put pressure on them during the spring of 1973 because he, RHOAT, was associated with RICHICHI at that time and to his knowledge, all arrangements were amicable and no force, pressure, or threats were utilized. He stated that any such allegations would be untrue. He stated that he personally is not worried should any such allegations have been made because he would not have been involved.

RHOAT stated that at no time did he ever deliver any money to anyone on behalf of RICHICHI.

He stated that the only time he assisted RICHICHI in anything but the servicing of peep show machines was one time when he personally bought an adult book store just off Flagler Street in downtown Miami and later sold it at a profit, telling the new owner that part of the deal was that he utilize RICHICHI's machines. He would not say where or how he first met RICHICHI.

RHOAT stated that there is a former employee of RICHICHI named FRANK, last name unrecalled, who is now working in an Orlando, Florida book store. FRANK was beaten up and dismissed by RICHICHI several months ago inasmuch as he had lost keys to some of the machines RICHICHI controlled. After this incident, FRANK lived and worked with VAN ALLER for a short period of time. RHOAT speculated that FRANK would probably tell what he knows of RICHICHI. He stated he would endeavor to obtain FRANK's name and location and furnish them at a later date.

RHOAT, in terminating the interview, admitted that he had been less than completely candid with the interviewing Agents. He stated that this has been due to not recalling a great many details, his desire to re-evaluate his own position, and his belief that some of his customers and suppliers of sexually oriented material might not do further business with him. He stated he is not fearful of any prosecution of himself with regard to RICHICHI's activities however. RHOAT stated that RICHICHI is a most unsavory character and that he feels RICHICHI probably belongs in jail. He stated that to this end he would refresh his memory, fully evaluate his position, and furnish a more complete, candid account of RICHICHI's activities within a week or so.

The interview was thereafter terminated.

MM 92-4538

On July 16, 1975, JAMES HOWARD RHOAT, owner of Miami Books, Incorporated, of North Miami Beach, Florida, and Seaboard News Agency, Fort Pierce, Florida, both well known pornography distributorships, advised that HOPKINS is presently working at the Book Worm pornographic book store located on Orange Avenue in Orlando, Florida, one-half block from the Angebilt Hotel where HOPKINS is staying. RHOAT had previously advised HOPKINS was fired and beaten up by RICHICHI for having lost a set of keys to "peep show" machines which RICHICHI serviced.

By arrangement with WALTER VANALLER, Javaco, U.S. Highway 441, Delray Beach, Florida, FRANK HOPKINS was made available for interview at the Javaco premises.

FRANK K. HOPKINS was located at Javaco, U.S. Highway #441, Delray Beach, Florida. He was apprised of the identity of the interviewing Agent by display of credentials and verbally advised that the proposed interview was to concern HOPKINS' possible knowledge of the business dealings of NATALE RICHICHI, also known as Big Chris and Big Harry. HOPKINS was further advised that HARRY was under investigation for violation of the Hobbs Act in that he had allegedly brought undue pressure to bear on various individuals in furtherance of his sexually oriented "peep show" machine business.

HOPKINS stated that he would be glad to furnish what information he could regarding HARRY and thereafter he advised as follows:

HOPKINS stated that he is originally from the Salt Lake City, Utah area and had worked at a Salt Lake City television station where his father had been employed as chief projectionist. He said that through his father, he gained considerable expertise in cameras, projectors, and related fields. He stated that his father is now deceased.

HOPKINS stated that in August of 1973, he was managing Burkey's Restaurant located at Delray Beach. During that month he wrecked his car and was fired from his job. He stated that as a result of the accident, he was in local custody and was ultimately bailed out by WALTER VAN ALLER, whom he had met previously at Burkey's Restaurant.

HOPKINS stated that he thereafter accepted a job with VAN ALLER who then was in the business of building, maintaining, and servicing coin operated movie machines which were utilized in various sexually oriented book stores throughout the area. He stated that building upon his previous television station experience, VAN ALLER taught him the intricacies of building, maintaining, and servicing the machines. He said that VAN ALLER's business is in Javaco, where the present interview was being conducted, and which business continues to be VAN ALLER's.

HOPKINS continued that in November of 1973, his father died suddenly and he went home for the funeral, having borrowed the money to do so from VAN ALLER. He said that upon his return to the Delray Beach, Florida area, VAN ALLER told him of "BIG HARRY", who wanted a man to work for him taking care of the "peep show" machines which HARRY was then placing in various area adult book stores. He stated that at VAN ALLER's suggestion he went to work for HARRY on December 12, 1973.

HOPKINS stated that his duties with HARRY consisted of servicing the "peep show" machines which HARRY had in area book stores. He stated that this consisted primarily of servicing coin boxes, timing devices and projection equipment utilized in the machines. He said that in the Fall of 1974, HARRY became convinced that he, HOPKINS, had been breaking into coin boxes attached to various machines and stealing money therefrom. He said that in this connection, HARRY, who is physically a big man, physically "straightened" him out. He said he did not resist HARRY although he was physically beaten. He said that subsequently, HARRY learned HOPKINS had not stolen from him and again came to trust him. HOPKINS stated that in March of 1975, he desired to go on a vacation and approached HARRY inasmuch as he had never had a vacation since beginning work for him. As a result of this request, he said he was fired. He said he knew HARRY would probably fire him for wanting to go on vacation but felt if he could not have a vacation he did not desire to work any longer for HARRY. He said that since March of 1975, he has had no contact whatsoever with HARRY.

HOPKINS stated that while employed for HARRY, he serviced machines at the following stores; noting that the names are not always the business name but the way he referred to the stores and also indicated are the managers or owners where recalled:

HOPKINS stated that during the time he worked for HARRY there were generally four to five individuals working at the same time. He said that one individual generally kept the records, he, HOPKINS, was the serviceman, two individuals changed the film in the machines, and one or two carpenters were employed.

HOPKINS stated that to the best of his knowledge, HARRY came to the South Florida area in late 1973 from New York. He said he was unaware of HARRY's New York activities.

He stated that he never particularly liked HARRY and realizing that the sexually oriented business was somewhat quasi legal, never desired to know more about HARRY's business than he absolutely had to. He said he therefore, never asked HARRY anything about the business other than repair schedules, and HARRY never discussed it with him. He said that it is his understanding that HARRY had "backing" from some powerful individuals but he did not know who these individuals were or anything about them. He stated that the names MITCHELL or TERRY ZAPPEI and ROBERT DE BERNARDO or D.B. are unknown to him.

HOPKINS stated that as he went about servicing machines several comments were made to him to the effect that HARRY had bought the machines in the various stores and he sensed that some owners had not been happy with HARRY's coming into the area. He said, however, he has no direct or indirect knowledge of any incident wherein HARRY used any force, threats or coercion to take over the machines. He stated that on one occasion, HARRY told him that he was going to have the machines in the Jaybird News Book Store on West Broward Boulevard in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, "one way or another." HOPKINS said, however, that HARRY was never able to arrange any business there.

HOPKINS stated that he is not personally aware of HARRY sabotaging the machines of any competitors. He said on several occasions HARRY's own machines were sabotaged with gum in the coin chutes which HOPKINS had to repair. He said he had heard that another book store owner, name unknown, in Miami, had experienced sabotage of his machines in some way; however, HOPKINS did not know any details.

HOPKINS stated that several months ago, after his leaving HARRY's employ, another former employee, [redacted] (Last Name Unknown), who was a route man for HARRY and who presently operates a book store on U.S. Highway #441, in Fort Lauderdale, near the Lake Shore Drive in Theater, told him that HARRY was being investigated for using force to take over various "peep show" operations. HOPKINS said he had no knowledge of such activities.

HOPKINS stated that it was his understanding that the arrangement with Murray's Book Store located on U.S. Highway #441 in Hollywood, was that the book store would use HARRY's machines and that thereafter, HARRY would arrange for the book store to get merchandise through a supplier friend of HARRY's. HOPKINS said he did not know who this supplier was or have any other information regarding the matter.

HOPKINS stated upon conclusion of the interview that he had not been specifically prepared to discuss the subject matter of this interview and felt that with some time to think he could possibly furnish information that might be of help. He said that to this end he would be in contact with the interviewing Agent at a later date. He stated he had no qualms whatsoever about furnishing information regarding HARRY and would be of what assistance he could in this matter.

HOPKINS said that he presently lives at 716½ North Mills, Orlando, Florida, which is located above Colonial Town News, which he manages at 716 North Mills. He said he lives there with his wife and child and does not yet have a telephone. He said that he could be contacted telephonically at Colonial Town News, 894-9428. He said that in addition to Colonial Town News, he is associated with two other sexually oriented book stores in the Orlando, Florida area.

According to Detective Sgt. The subjects and [redacted] then went out to collect bills around the United States, which bills were due for merchandise supplied by Liverpool Library. In connection with trying to collect on these bills, the subjects and [redacted] allegedly used threats and extortion. [redacted] stated that [redacted] Assistant District Attorney, San Diego, California, originally identified the subjects and [redacted] in the XYZ Collection Agency operation, and that [redacted] would possess the pertinent documentation thereof.

Furthermore, ZAPPI, RICHICHI and [redacted] about June, 1973, were involved in making collections by extortionate methods in the New York City area at least, and were prosecuted in Federal Court, Brooklyn, New York. In that matter, RICHICHI and [redacted] operated the Heights Car Service for TERRY ZAPPI. The XYZ Collection Agency was reportedly located in the building adjacent to Heights Car Service.

For the information of Miami, the title of New York's file 166-3463 was ETTORE ZAPPI; WILLIAM HAIMOWITZ; CHARLES LE CONTI; PAUL RUGGIERO; NATALE RICHICHI; ITAR - EXTORTION; ECT. The NY 166 file was opened to handle specific allegations that ZAPPI was "shaking down" book store owners to further sales of Liverpool Industries in San Diego, California, by sending strong arm men from Brooklyn to various cities throughout the US. These allegations were unsubstantiated due to the lack of cooperation by the alleged victims.

On 8/9/74, Special Attorney [REDACTED] EDNY, advised that the NY 166 case did not have sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution, especially without the cooperation of witnesses, namely one [REDACTED] NYO closed its 166 file based on the above.
